BUILDING MATERIALS PRICE INDEXES

Original terms

The price index of materials used in house building in Hobart decreased by 0.7% over the twelve months ending January 1997. Over the same period the national average increased by 0.2%. Sydney, Adelaide, Brisbane and Perth all recorded increases over the period with Adelaide being the highest, at 2.1%.

For materials used in building other than house building, the Hobart price index increased by 0.9% over the twelve months ending January 1997. Other capital cities that recorded increases in the index were Sydney, Brisbane, Adelaide and Perth with Adelaide again being the highest at 1.7%. The index for the weighted average of the eight capital cities increased by 0.3% over the period.

Components which contributed most to the change in Hobart's materials other than house building index over the year ending January 1997 were paint and other coatings (up 5.2%), fabricated steel products (up 4.7%), and structural steel (up 3.9%). These rises were partly offset by falls in the prices of structural timber (down 9.3%) and non-ferrous pipes and fittings (down 4.0%). (See tables 15 and 18, pages 11 and 13.)

Changing productivity per staff-hour makes these indicators unsatisfactory for long-term comparisons.
Includes the whole milk equivalent of farm cream intake.
Includes butter equivalent of butter oil.
Includes sprining, weaving and carpet making. Reported by establishments which manufacture textiles only, or manufacture clothing and textiles in the one plant.

 7 Metallurgical refining index (Base: 1979-80 = 100.0) Output from selected establishments covering the smelting and refining of ferro-alloys, zinc and aluminium. The weighting pattern is based on the establishments' value added as derived from the 1979-80 Manufacturing Census. For multi-product establishments, value added was apportioned to products on the basis of gross receipts from each product.

There is an annual recalculation of seasonal adjustment factors to include the most recent year's arrivals. This occurs at the end of each financial year and may cause revisions to previously published seasonally adjusted and trend figures. A full time series of seasonally adjusted and trend series from January 1971 is available on request, telephone (03) 6220 5870. (Source: Tourism Tasmania. ABS unpublished data.)

The following persons are not included in these statistics: passengers under three years of age accompanied by an adult; passengers travelling on chartered flights with minor carriers; passengers travelling on private or VIP flights; and passengers from or departing for overseas other than direct flights to New Zealand.
 The proportion of departing passengers who were visitors was shown to be about 58% in the 1981 Tasmanian Visitor Survey, 55% in the 1984 Tasmanian Visitor Survey, 53% in the 1986 Tasmanian Visitor Survey, 65% in the 1990 Tasmanian Visitor Survey, 60% in the 1994 survey, and 58% in the 1995 Tasmanian Visitor Survey.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

INTRODUCTION

1 This publication contains latest figures for a comprehensive range of economic indicators. Statistics shown in this publication are the latest available at the date of preparation and may be subject to revision in subsequent issues. In a number of cases figures appearing in this publication are preliminary and are subject to revision in subsequent issues. Reference should therefore always be made to the latest issue or to the statistical publication on the specific subject.

SEASONAL ADJUSTMENT AND TREND ESTIMATION

- 2 Seasonal adjustment is a means of removing the estimated effects of normal seasonal variation from the series so that the effects of other influences on the series can be more clearly recognised. Seasonal adjustment does not aim to remove the irregular or non-seasonal influences which may be present in any particular month. This means that month-to-month movements of the seasonally adjusted estimates may not be reliable indicators of trend behaviour.
- 3 The smoothing of seasonally adjusted series reduces the impact of the irregular components of the seasonally adjusted series and creates trend estimates. These trend estimates are derived by applying a 13-term Henderson-weighted moving average to all months except the last six. The last six monthly trend estimates are obtained by applying surrogates of the Henderson average to the seasonally adjusted series. Trend series are used to analyse the underlying behaviour of the series over time.
- 4 While this smoothing technique enables estimates to be produced for the latest month, it does result in revisions to the most recent months as additional observations become available. Generally, subsequent revisions become smaller and after 3 months have a negligible impact on the series. Revisions also occur as a result of the annual review of seasonal factors.
- 5 Users may wish to refer to the ABS Publication A Guide to Interpreting Time Series - Monitoring 'Trends' - An Overview (1348.0) for more detailed information on smoothing seasonally adjusted time series data.

RELATED PUBLICATIONS

6 Current publications produced by the ABS are listed in the Catalogue of Publications and Products (1101.0). The ABS also issues, on Tuesdays and Fridays, the Release Advice (1105.0) which lists publications to be released in the next few days. The Catalogue and Release Advice are available from any ABS office.

UNPUBLISHED STATISTICS

7 As well as the statistics included in this and related publications, the ABS may have other relevant unpublished data available. Inquiries should be made to Information Inquiries on (03) 6222 5800 or to any ABS office.

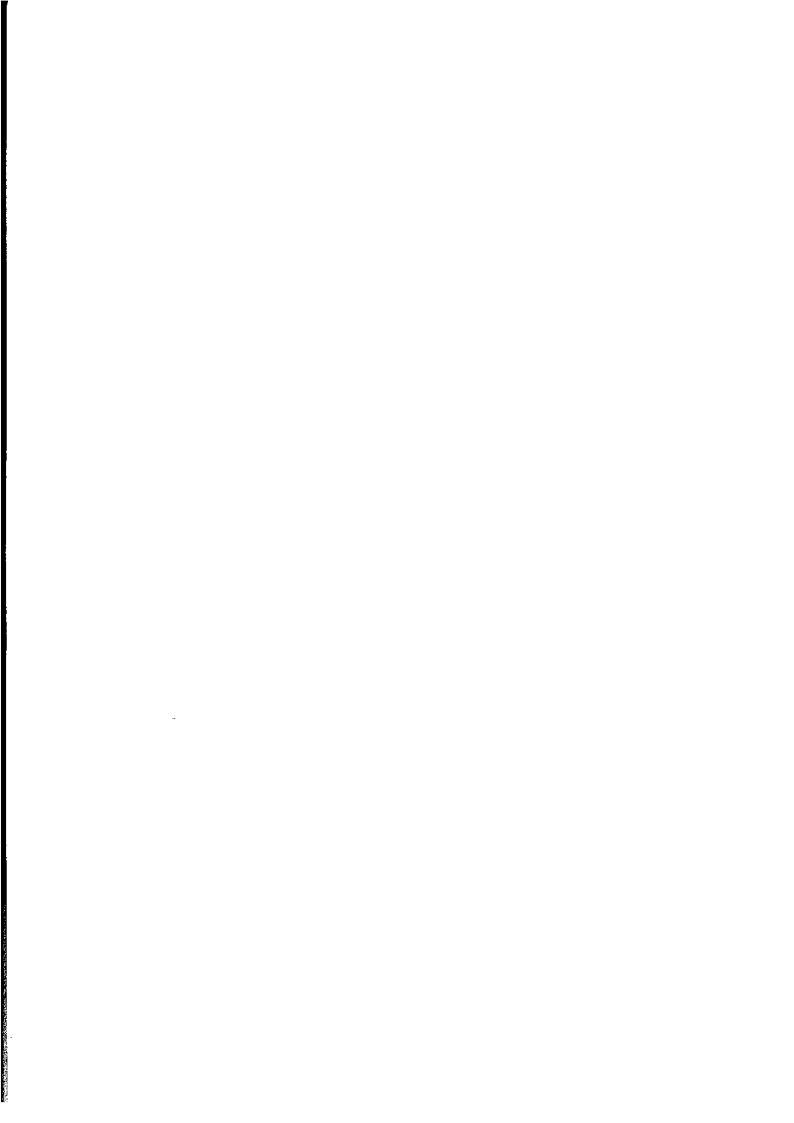

EFFECTS OF ROUNDING

8 Some figures have been rounded and discrepancies may occur between totals and sums of the component items.
